

Here is what viewers say about the DVD “The Path of the Horse”.

I was speechless! I cried for the longest time. Sometimes it's hard to look at what you're doing with your horses and be totally honest. It's a journey of a lifetime. It challenges us to be better people. Horses keep us honest when we listen. I've followed the work of several of the featured horse people in your video and it was wonderful to see them speak in this venue. I wanted to send a copy to every horse person I know. I long for them to "see". Could they "see"?

You are truly a blessing and I can't thank you enough for producing such a beautiful piece of work. Thank you for your sacrifice to make this wonderful film. I believe that your impact on the horse world will be monumental. Well done!

Just received it. Just watched it. Wow! Have to take time to digest what I saw. I really "got" this last year, but I think I have wandered off my chosen path more recently. Your video has brought me back to where I want to be. Things happen for a reason and I know the reason this arrived in my mailbox today..... Many thanks!

The DVD arrived today and I have had my first viewing--I love it and I thank you for putting together such a wonderful piece. I have read, watched, admired etc. all of the amazing people you documented. I smiled, laughed, cried and dreamed.

I wish to thank you from the depths of my heart for this DVD! I cried with shame at the treatment we have given these and ALL non-humans. I laughed and felt deeply the joy of interaction, unimpeded, between non-human and human. I have the impulse to ask what I can do to help the education of people about all of this.

I am so impressed with The Path of the Horse ... it is brilliant and SUCH important work!! CONGRATULATIONS--You are a true trailblazer and incredibly brave. I actually did not know your personal story or how it was woven through all of this and it touches me so deeply that I just bawled and smiled and cheered through the entire thing – it is so incredibly humbling and takes me to a new level of both understanding and not knowing and seeking and surrendering.

When it was over, I just sat in stunned silence for 5 minutes, then watched it through again. What you have shown, is (to me) the essence of how I want to be, not just with my horses, but in my life, in my relationships. I sometimes miss the mark, and I am learning to be grateful for these experiences, just as I am grateful for the 'small and wonderful' experiences.... Thank you so much for your work, the message these people are sending is life affirming, your work in bringing this message to us is priceless. Thank you sincerely

I laughed I wept I then laughed and wept again. You have so beautifully illustrated the path we should have with horses, and unfortunately the hideous one many of us still pursue. Thank you so much for this wonderful film that could change the lives of so many horses, it's a masterpiece, I do hope you are very proud of yourself and that you have in this film, given a voice to all the horses still in there silent suffering. This film is also a healing for humans as well as horses, as we both know any cruelty to animals comes from a human race in the state of confusion. This is the reason that most humans still interact with horses like they are lost, the direction can come from animals and nature, and ultimately inside ourselves, but an awful lot of self healing has to happen on a personal level for that to ever happen....this is the path the horses are trying to show us, always willing to offer us that outstretched arm, only some of us see it's being offered.

I was blown away by your honesty and the way you honored your own path with the horses, it is very inspiring.

You have done something very much like a miracle... Your documentary is heartfelt, touching, thought-provoking and an opening to another world of being with horses. By presenting this as the evolution of your own path with horses, you have made it very real, free of condemnation and filled with hope. This evolutionary message, presented through your voice, is sure to pierce the hearts and minds of even the most skeptical horsemen.

I've now watched your marvelous dvd 3 times. I plan to watch it again and again and share it with as many friends as possible.

..there are no words. I'm quite sure you've received all kinds of glowing, positive feedback by now. What can I add? Simply put, I love your story - the entire video. LOVE IT ! Your voice, telling your story; the "masters" you chose to include and selected clips of their words of horse-human-relationship wisdom... all elements are well thought-out and woven into a wonderful telling of your story, your journey with horses, and all the while, gently promoting our evolving (and perhaps returning) relationship with one of God's greatest gifts - the horse. The message of your documentary is so important - and only the beginning, really, towards reshaping our relationship with horses. Thank you . . . in many ways, as I watched your video for the first time, I felt my mare's deep, contented sigh ... like I'd finally returned home. Thank you.

I can't thank you enough for taking this journey and producing this truly amazing video. It should be watched by EVERY horse owner on the face of this earth! THANK YOU THANK YOU!

I just finished watching the DVD for the second time. I'm sure I'll be watching it again. I was so impressed with what you were willing to give up, to let go of, to sacrifice in order to follow this path - the outcome of which was so unknown and unfamiliar. You are living proof of what love actually can accomplish - moving proverbial mountains.

I watched the movie last night and I even dreamed about it. I just had to let you know that I am utterly blown away by it. I can't stop thinking about all I watched.

The Path Of The Horse is the most moving, heartfelt and brilliant video I have ever seen about horses. I loved everything you did from the story line to the photography to the music. Thank you from me and the horses all over the world who will benefit from your love and concern -why do people do anything else when they have witnessed that vision of pure harmony and respect?

Oh my god.I got the Path of the Horse in the mail today and just watched it! ..that was so FABULOUS! Thank you so much for putting all that together!!! I LOVED the Hempfling part where he is telling the woman to be her six year old self again and can't wait to go out to be with my horse tomorrow.

I got a call from the UK yesterday to see your wonderful DVD immediately and I would like to get the DVD ASAP

What can I say...your video is beautiful, moving, inspiring, exciting, hopeful, broad, expansive, open ended, inviting, delicious and entirely salable.

I am speechless. Perhaps when I have had a chance to process it in my mind, I will think of something to say.

I just want to sincerely thank you for making this documentary of enormous amount of inspiration and courage to search the truth. I cried more than once, because it is so touching and true, thus at the same time so devastating that so few actually are capable and interested in leaning from their horses.

Along the lines of Cavalia, this film documentary is ground breaking and utterly inspiring. I believe it is another definitive step in the evolution of our journey (which for all of you has and probably still does include the horse) into the deeper awareness of our inner creative power. If you love horses and know we have a chance at greater intimacy with these amazing beings, you will love this video and want to watch it over and over.

I sobbed with joy and relief upon seeing snippets of the video. I have avoided going near horses, even though I love them, most of my life. I finally realized it was because most horses weren't respected or treated in such a way, or appreciated so that their natural intelligence and spirit could find expression. When I heard people in the video speak of them, and saw them videoed, with such love and appreciation, I was so moved. Thank you.

Stormy May has created an inspirational documentary that has touched my heart in a way no other video has... It felt like she had read my mind knew of my inner journey for the last ten years as I have struggled to find what I was looking for, a way of being in relationship with horses that truly felt congruent with my heart. As I watched, my eyes filled with the tears of awareness and truth along with the hope that we are opening to a more humane world, both with the animals we love and our lives with each other.
